New Federal Guidelines for Reporting Ethnicity and Race Data for Central R-3 Students/Staff

The U.S. Department of Education requires all states to collect information on the race and ethnicity of public school students. The federal government has developed a new way to report ethnicity and race that includes new categories. The changes should provide a more accurate picture of the nation's ethnic and racial diversity. Beginning in the 2009-2010 school year, families of all students will be asked to fill out a brief form to update the reporting of their children's ethnicity and race.

Race/Ethnicity data will not be included for directory information under FERPA.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. If I have already provided this information to the school system, why must I provide it again?

In the past, forms for reporting race and ethnicity to the federal government allowed individuals to be identified in only one racial category. The new form enables individuals to be identified in ethnic and racial classifications and in more than one racial category. The federal government is requiring that ethnic and racial information for all students and staff members be reported in this new way in order to reflect the nation's diversity more accurately.

2. How will the information be used?

The data with the new ethnicity and race categories will be used in the same manner that racial and ethnic data are currently used. The new categories will replace the existing categories for use in all state and federally sponsored statistical data collections that include data on ethnicity or race. Some examples include student record cards and test results.

3. Who provides the information?

Parents or students will complete a brief form to identify their children's ethnic and racial identity.

4. When and how will the new information be gathered?

Central R-III School District will follow the new federal guidelines beginning in the 2010-11 school year. The families of newly enrolling students AND of all current students will be asked to provide the new information.

- The racial category "Asian or Pacific Islander" has been separated into two new categories—"Asian" and "Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander."
- Individuals will be able to select one or more races from the five racial groups.

6. What are the ethnicity and race categories?
